LOCATION

HOTEL ROBERT FULTON is located at numbers 228 to 238 Seventy-First Street West, between Broadway and West End Avenue, about 300 feet west of Broadway, and 500 feet from the 72nd Street subway express station, two short blocks from the 6th and 9th Avenue elevated lines.

The Robert Fulton is so located on the highest point of the knoll, it commands a magnificent view of the Hudson River and Palisades, at the same time enjoying the absolute freedom from noise which makes most City hotels so disagreeable.

Besides the subway and elevated, there are three surface lines and the 5th Avenue Bus less than a block away, by which means one may have direct and immediate transportation to the Pennsylvania station and Grand Central Terminal in 5 to 10 minutes; to the center of the shopping and amusement district, 10 minutes; to the heart of the financial district and Steamship piers, 15 to 20 minutes.

Within walking distance of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, Museum of Natural History and Riverside Drive.

FURNISHINGS

HOTEL ROBERT FULTON is elaborately furnished to appeal to the most discriminating. Hardwood floors prevail throughout the apartments, and the rugs used are the best Hartford-Saxony and Wilton. Great care has been exercised in the selection of the furniture, consideration given both as to style and comfort.

CONSTRUCTION

THE building is 14 stories high, absolutely fireproof. Two large fire towers are provided, being entirely separated from the rest of the building. Two large passenger and one large service elevator affords rapid and ample facilities for the patrons.

The architecture is a modified form of the Colonial. Modern plumbing with a shower attached to each bath. The apartments are divided into suites of one room with private bath, two rooms with private bath, three rooms with private bath, and three rooms with two private baths. Total 300 rooms, 200 baths.

DINING ROOM

THE Dining Room occupies the entire southern side of the building, over 100 feet in length, and has ample seating capacity. The service is a la carte, except excellent club breakfasts are served at very moderate prices, and a table d'hote dinner on Sunday and Thursday evenings.

RATES

One room with private bath, four dollars per day and up.

Living room and chamber with private bath, six dollars per day and up for one, two or three persons.
